No Russian Protests

NATO, Turkish Forces Begin Maneuvers Near Syrian Frontier

By United Press
NATO and Turkish forces began large scale and long-planned maneuvers today off the Turkish coast and just north of the Syrian frontier.

Both Russia and Syria warned in the past that Turkey must not use the maneuvers as an excuse to invade Syria but there was no outburst of Russian propaganda today.

There was some speculation the lack of Soviet protests might indicate a switch in policy as indicated by Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's mild speech in the United Nations this week.

An Istanbul dispatch said land, sea and air units of NATO's Southern European Forces launched operation "Red Epoch" along Turkey's southwestern shores with atomic capable ships and planes.

Turk Forces Exercise
Reliable Turkish sources said the Turks were holding parallel exercises near the Syrian border, including some maneuvers in the southeastern frontier area. The reports said troops, armor and air force units were involved. Units of the powerful Sixth Fleet, including the guided missile cruiser Canberra, the carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt and the cruisers Albany and Salem were included in the NATO task force. NATO submarines from Malta also joined the exercise.

Aircraft from Britain's Royal Air Force will join Sixth Fleet planes in the maneuvers in which NATO land forces will carry out landing operations.

The lack of immediate reaction was reflected in the United Nations which shelved the Turco-Syrian crisis for 24 hours and turned to a discussion of disarmament.

Believe Russia Overplayed Hand
The Assembly had been scheduled to debate the Middle East situation this morning and western diplomats hoped to end the debate today with a declaration that most U. N. delegates felt Syria and Turkey should discuss the dispute with Dag Hammarskjöld.

Some delegates saw this as a means of saving face for Syria following Nikita Khrushchev's statement in Moscow earlier this week thought Russia appears to have overplayed its hand in the Middle East and alarmed Arab leaders. This was the Washington explanation for the sudden switch from Moscow sabre rattling to soft words of peace.

A possible clue lay in Washington where U. S. officials said they thought Russia appears to have overplayed its hand in the Middle East and alarmed Arab leaders. This was the Washington explanation for the sudden switch from Moscow sabre rattling to soft words of peace.

A Washington dispatch said it was considered possible Kremlin leaders may fix the blame on the Middle East "flop" on Marshal Georgi Zhukov.

Malone Funeral Friday 2 p. m.

The funeral of Thomas R. Malone, 76, former resident of Williamson county, who died in Pueblo, Colo., Monday, will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in the Zion church at Corinth in Williamson county. The body will lie in state at the Miller funeral home in Carrier Mills until time for the funeral.

In addition to his wife, Daisy Roberts Malone, he is survived by his two sons and one daughter, four brothers, including Fred Malone, Harrisburg RFD 1 and George Malone, Thompsonville, two sisters, five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Teen-Age Fight At Thompsonville

THOMPSONVILLE, Ill.—Franklin County authorities said today both fists and cars were used in a gang fight of teen-agers here Wednesday night.

A woman reported she was awakened by what sounded like a wreck. She said boys poured out of two cars and began fighting. Then they got back into the cars which banged together two or three times before the drivers left.

Illinois Flu Cases Decline

By United Press
As last vestiges of influenza departed from the Chicago area, authorities today announced that one of Illinois' 21 deaths due to flu or complications was due to the encephalitis variety.

Laboratory tests confirmed that a Chicago man died from encephalitis, an inflammation of the brain, brought on by influenza. Chicago school officials disclosed that attendance was almost back to normal Wednesday. Renewed surges of flu were reported, however, in southern Illinois.

Schools were closed in Wabash, Franklin, Richland and Bond counties as a result of Asian flu or other types of flu. Absenteeism at Mount Carmel reached 32 per cent, and nine schools were closed near Olney.

Officials at the University of Illinois, where nearly half the students were stricken, said the disease is fading and class attendance beginning to increase. Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, where about 2,000 students were felled since the outbreak began, also reported that the flu is on the wane.

Rites Friday for Karen G. Miley

The funeral of Karen G. Miley, 13, daughter of Harker P. and Margaret Ann Miley, 1016 South Grand street, Harrisburg, who died Tuesday, will be held in the First Presbyterian church where she was a member, at 3 p. m. Friday. The body is in the care of the Gaskins funeral home and will lie in state there until taken to the church to lie in state, one hour before funeral time. Rev. William Burroughs will officiate and burial will be in the Sunset Lawn cemetery.

Program for World Community Day Observance

State Senator Glen O. Jones will speak at the World Community Day observance at the Presbyterian church at 7 p. m. Friday. The complete program:

Prelude—Mrs. Charles Boicourt. Meditation—Mrs. D. H. Hiller. Call to worship—Alta Johnson. Litany—Mrs. Clarence Bosket, leader.

Solo—Val Oshel. Address—"Bread, Freedom and Dignity," Sen. Jones.

Offertory—Mrs. James Henderson. Offertory flute solo—Jane Radcliffe.

Benediction—The Rev. William Burroughs.

Mrs. Paul Halbersleben will preside and Mrs. John Fuller will be in charge of parcels. Ushers will be Mrs. Ora Anderson, Mrs. Frank Gray, Mrs. John Schwartz, Miss Beulah Lievers.

Two Chinese Win Nobel Prizes

STOCKHOLM—Two young Chinese-American scientists won the Nobel Prize for Physics today for momentous discoveries that upset some of the fundamental principles of physics. The Nobel Prize for Medicine was awarded to a Scottish-born Cambridge professor for basic cell research benefiting both chemistry and medicine.

Sir Alexander R. Todd, 50, Glasgow-born professor of organic chemistry at Cambridge, was awarded the $40,000 medicine prize "for his work on nucleotides co-enzymes" during a 15-year study of the fundamental processes of life.

The two Chinese physicists, first Chinese ever to receive the prize, were Dr. Tsung Dao Lee, 30, of Columbia University and Dr. Chen Ning Yang, 34, of the Princeton Institute for Advanced Study. Their momentous discoveries were announced by Columbia last Jan. 16.

They were chosen by the Royal Swedish Academy of Science to share the $40,000 prize for "their penetrating investigation of the so-called parity laws, which has led to important discoveries regarding elementary sub-atom particles."

Former Senator Welker Dies

WASHINGTON—Former Sen. Herman Welker, 50, died Wednesday night of a brain ailment at the National Institutes of Health clinical center in suburban Maryland.

The Idaho Republican was admitted to the health center on Oct. 16 and underwent surgery to relieve pressure on his brain. On Tuesday he underwent surgery again.

Welker, a right wing Republican, replaced a left wing Democrat, Glen Taylor, in the Senate in 1951. Welker was defeated for reelection in 1956 by 32-year-old Frank Church, a Boise attorney, who became the youngest member of the Senate.

In the Senate Welker incessantly attacked the new and fair deals, aiming some of his strongest blasts at Secretary of State Dean Acheson. He was a member of the Internal Security subcommittee and was an ardent supporter of the late Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

George Holland Funeral Friday

The funeral of George Holland, 69, a retired coal miner and Saline county road commissioner, who died Tuesday, will be held in the Dorris Baptist church at 1:30 p. m. Friday. Survived by his wife, Mae, and four children, Mr. Holland was born in Saline county and lived here all of his life.

The body will lie in state at the Gaskins funeral home until the funeral. Rev. William Fuson, assistant of Rev. Roy Reynolds, will officiate and burial will be in the Sunset Lawn cemetery.

Two Illinois Men Among 14 Airmen Killed In Tanker Plane Crash

ROSWELL, N. M.—Two Illinois men were killed in the crash Tuesday of an Air Force KC97 tanker plane 40 miles north of Flagstaff, Ariz.

They were T. Sgt. Ronald E. Ruble, 30, Roanoke, and Capt. David G. Morris, 29, Evanston. Fourteen other Air Force men were killed in the crash.

Mennen Official Claims Dio Union Tried Extortion

Power Failure Hits St. Paul, Minneapolis

Hospitals Use Emergency Power; Traffic Signals Out

MINNEAPOLIS—A vast power failure hit central Minnesota and some communities in Wisconsin today.

The Halloween blackout occurred at 8:45 a. m. at the height of the morning rush hour, and ended at 10:30 a. m.

In the twin cities area of Minneapolis and St. Paul, inhabited by one million persons, the failure disrupted industry and created traffic jams.

Northern States Power Co. said the blackout hit Hastings and Mankato, Minn., south of the Twin Cities, and the state prison city of Stillwater, Minn., to the north.

The company said the power failure apparently extended as far west as 75 miles east of Sioux Falls, S. D., and as far east as 75 miles east of Eau Claire, Wis.

Blames Transformer Explosion
A company spokesman said a transformer apparently exploded at the company's Black Dog generating plant 10 miles south of the Twin Cities, and that a common connection between three generators failed simultaneously.

The failure threw the entire load on 57 other plants in the company's interconnected system, the spokesman said, but these plants were unable to handle the unexpected load and were cut out.

Hospitals switched to emergency power. Police sent details to banks because the blackout silenced alarm systems.

Traffic signals were out and traffic crept cautiously through the area.

The surge of power when the second generating plant was cut in enabled elevators to reach the nearest floor and unload. An official of the 40-story First National Bank Building in St. Paul said otherwise hundreds of persons would have been trapped between floors.

Blackout Cripples Industry
Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. switched to emergency power to continue operations. But business offices with private switchboards were hampered because bells, buzzers and lights were inoperative.

The power blackout crippled industry, including major companies such as Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing, Minneapolis Honeywell Regulator and General Mills.

Decision Soon On Location of Area State Office

SPRINGFIELD—A decision on the location of a southern Illinois office of the state Personnel Department should be made within a week or 10 days, state officials reported today.

Personnel Director Donald D. McAmis conferred with Gov. Stratton late Wednesday on the matter. It will be up to the governor to decide, he said.

Earlier McAmis said the office probably would be located at Herin or West Frankfort.

The office would serve as a clearing and recruitment point for state agencies and institutions in southern Illinois, and would employ from five to eight persons, McAmis said.

He said the department wanted an office in southern Illinois to permit better servicing of state personnel needs in the area. When state employees are needed in southern Illinois, he said, they should be recruited in southern Illinois.

To Mobilize Nation

Eisenhower to Launch Crusade To Reawaken U. S. to Science

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower is ready to launch a great new crusade to reawaken America to science.

If he follows the plan of his scientific advisers, this will mean mobilizing the entire nation—the federal government, states, local communities and the average citizen—to a new concentration on scientific learning and achievement.

Just how much the Chief Executive will reveal of the actual U. S. position in the science-weapons race with Russia apparently is still undecided. Vannevar Bush, head of the World War II government Science Office under which the atom bomb was developed, called Wednesday for a "real awakening" to the Russian challenge and said "the whole story hasn't been told."

The President himself demonstrated at his news conference Wednesday he was more concerned about Soviet scientific gains than at his meeting with reporters three weeks previously when he was not "one iota" jarred by Russia's earth satellite.

Ike Astonished
He said he was "a bit astonished" to find U. S. scientists with whom he has conferred since his previous news conference upset over "where we are going to be in 10 years" from now.

Eisenhower said the scientists wanted his support for a campaign to reawaken the nation to need of increased scientific endeavor. He said he will do their bidding "if it is feasible, because I believe exactly what they said."

While the President did not elaborate, the United Press learned that scientists who have talked to the President have put the issue to him this way:

"The problem is well-known. The accelerated advance of the Russians is well known. We have to change some of our own attitudes. Not just the government but people in general. The next generation will have to work harder, become more competitive if the United States is going to hold the position it should have in the world."

The scientists, who are now drawing up plans for the crusade, believe the President can "create the climate" for American science to get a powerful shot in the arm.

This official said there are many plans afoot to improve teaching of science, a vastly needed feature in any resurgence of scientific endeavor in America.

Galatia Boy Shot in Leg by Harco Resident In Halloween Incident

A 15-year-old Galatia boy in a group of 12 boys got some shot in his leg when fired upon by a Harco resident during a Halloween incident last night, Sheriff William T. Barrett said today.

Barrett said the boys had admitted overturning one outbuilding at Harco before the shotgun was fired. The wounded boy was treated by a physician at Eldorado and was released.

Sheriff Barrett today pointed to the dangers of boys-getting together to do Halloween pranks, that somebody easily could be killed or seriously injured. He also said the same thing could happen to boys who go about the country stealing gasoline.

Says Sought Payoff to Settle Strike

Senate Committee Probes Firm's Link With Shefferman

WASHINGTON—The Mennen Co. said today an official of New York labor racketeer Johnny Dio's union tried to extort a $15,000 payoff to settle a strike.

George Mennen, vice president of the Morristown, N. J., firm, told the Senate Rackets Committee the incident indicates "how a business firm, operating in good faith, can find itself dealing with racketeers under the guise of labor organizations."

Mennen was the first witness as the committee investigated his firm's links with Nathan W. Shefferman's firm, Labor Relations Associates, which has been pictured in current hearings as a union-busting service.

Retained Firm Twice
Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams is a director and owns about 8 per cent of the stock of the family firm, but committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said he was not responsible for its labor policies.

Mennen said nobody in the company has ever met Shefferman, but Shefferman's firm, through its New York office, was twice retained to handle personnel problems.

However, he disclaimed any knowledge that Shefferman's representative, Louis Jackson, used what previous cases have shown to be typical Shefferman techniques: checking the union sentiments of workers and firing those favoring the union; forming a vote committee and financing its anti-union efforts.

Brush With Extortion
Mennen said his firm, which makes baby powder and shaving preparations, had a brush with extortion in 1951, when Local 102 of Dio's AFL United Auto Workers staged a strike to organize its South Kearney, N. J., warehouse. He said Sam Zackman, founder of the local, offered to call off the strike for $15,000, but the company refused.

Dio, who was a non-talking witness in earlier hearings this year, replaced Zackman and signed a contract with the company, Mennen said.

The committee heard testimony Wednesday that Allstate Insurance Co., one of the nation's largest insurance firms and a subsidiary of Sears, Roebuck & Co., paid one of its agents $2,000 to help beat a union organizing drive.

Salem, Mt. Vernon Teen-Agers Fined In Fight Over Girls

MOUNT VERNON, Ill.—Four Salem and Mount Vernon teen-agers have been fined by a judge in the wake of a fight over girls.

Gunshots were fired and bricks and bottles thrown in the running fight north of Mount Vernon last Thursday night.

Dick Page, 17, of Salem, was fined $25 a shot for each of the four rifle shots he took at the car of a Mount Vernon teen-ager. He received a year's probation and the fine was suspended.

Two other Salem youths, Larry Fogerson, 18, and Morris Steevens, 17, were fined $25 each as accessories before the fact.

Max Kelley, 17, Mount Vernon, was fined $150 but elected to take a year's probation instead. Judge Charles Jones of McLeansboro said Page and Kelley must not ride in a car for six months, pay court costs within 30 days and observe a 10 p. m. weekday curfew.

Mrs. Raymond W. Fox Dies at Hattiesburg, Miss.

Word was received here this morning of the death of Mrs. Raymond W. Fox, Hattiesburg, Miss.

Although Mrs. Fox had not been well for several weeks, death was unexpected.

She was the daughter-in-law of W. Riley Fox, RFD 3, Harrisburg. She is survived by her husband, Raymond, four daughters and six grandchildren.

Major Role In Preventing War

SAC Chief Believes Bomber Force Has Power to Destroy Russia Will to Fight

OMAHA, Neb.—The commander of America's Strategic Air Command is quietly confident his bomber force has the punch to destroy Russia's will to fight, Soviet rockets notwithstanding.

Gen. Thomas Power, recent successor to Gen. Curtis LeMay as chief of the nation's long range jet striking force, made his view known in an exclusive interview.

Power, a genial-but-tough airman, said he viewed the job of SAC as being "to convince potential aggressors that war would not be worth the cost."

"You would have to ask the Russians to find out how successful we have been," he said, "but we think SAC has played a major role in preventing war."

"Democracies Can Excel"
But should a war start, he added, the forces under his command are capable of destroying the enemy's long range air force, war-making potential and will to fight.

As of now, the counter-attack would be handled by manned aircraft.

"When missiles are developed," he said, "they will be just another weapon in our system—to complement and supplement, rather than supplant, our bomber force."

"There is no doubt on my mind that the democracies can excel in any field providing we put the required emphasis on it."

Power directs SAC's global operations from a second-floor office at Offutt Air Force Base on the banks of the Missouri River. He is responsible for a force with 40 bases, strung from Guam to North Africa, representing an investment of $10,800,000,000.

Power, 52, had experience with nuclear weapons before his appointment in August as head of SAC. He was operations staff officer during the atomic bomb attacks on Hiroshima and Nagasaki and, after the war, he was assistant deputy task force commander of the Bikini atoll bomb tests.

Power admits he has a heavy responsibility.

"You can never get away from a job like this, so you try to operate in a posture that won't wear you out," he said. "It's not oppressive or a burden when you recognize its importance."

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
General Electric Benefited
From Transfer Of Earth Satellite; But No Skulduggery Was Involved; Macmillan Predicts 50-100 Years Of Cold War.

WASHINGTON. — The decision to switch our satellite from "Operation Orbiter" under the Army, Navy, and Air Force to "Operation Vanguard" under the Navy alone was made on the recommendation of the Stewart committee of the Research and Development Board, of which Dr. Homer Stewart of California Institute of Technology is chairman.

Also helping to influence the transfer, as a member of the Stewart committee, was Richard Porter of General Electric, who now heads the earth satellite panel of the International Geophysical Group.

These men, more than any other, transferred the satellite in 1955 at a time when it appeared to be making excellent progress.
The transfer permitted Russia to score one of the most important scientific and psychological victories in history. It also contributed in part to the fact that the Army, which was transferred out of the picture, now has six satellites in a Huntsville, Ala., warehouse but is not permitted to launch them.

Because of rigid administration censorship, it is extremely difficult to ascertain the reasons for the transfer and the subsequent snafu.

When Dr. Stewart was queried or the long distance telephone at Cal Tech he was uncommunicative.

"NO COMMENT"

"I can't talk," he said.

"My instructions don't permit me to comment at all," he replied when pressed further regarding the reasons for the disastrous transfer.

"You can't even comment as to whether you are chairman of the Stewart committee?"
"No, I can't comment on whether I am chairman of the committee," was the reply. "All I can say is that I've served on several committees."

This was "leaving" over backward a bit, because Dr. Stewart lists in his self-penned biography in Who's Who that he is a member of the Technical Evaluation Group of Guided Missiles Committee, Research and Development Board 1948-50; chairman since 1951.

Dr. Stewart has been privately criticized for selling the Pentagon on the satellite transfer because he was allegedly antagonistic to Dr. Fred Singer of the University of Maryland and Dr. Werner Von Braun, the ex-Nazi scientist, now attached to the Army. They had been given the main job of designing Operation Orbiter and propelling it off the ground.

All Dr. Stewart would say, however, was: "My instructions don't permit me to comment."

DID GE PROFIT?

It happens that one private company benefited from the transfer — General Electric. It also happens that Richard Porter, an official of General Electric, simultaneously advising the government, advised the transfer which benefited his company.

GE has the contract for the first-stage engine for the Vanguard satellite. This is the engine which has delayed the program and in earlier tests couldn't get off the ground. Last week, however, it was successful.

When queried by this column,
Mr. Porter admitted that he was a member of the Stewart committee which recommended the transfer, and also of the earth satellite panel, which likewise recommended the transfer.

When asked about the fact that his company, GE, benefited from the transfer, Porter replied:
"I don't know anything about the contract."

Checking with Porter's colleagues convinces me that he was telling the truth. He is a man of great integrity, and his associates state that when he discovered that General Electric was getting the new contract — as a result of the transfer he recommended — he was horrified and offered to resign.

As far as I can ascertain, no pecuniary interest or conflict of interest was involved.

Perhaps the mistake was just bad judgment. In view of the rigid wall of secrecy thrown up by the Eisenhower administration, however, it's impossible to probe further. But the mistake was important to the prestige of this country that a congressional committee with the power of subpoena should pursue the matter further. The above is about as far as a mere newsman can go.

100-YEAR COLD WAR

Now that the prime minister of England has had a chance to report to friends and associates, more details of his talks with Eisenhower are leaking out.

The most important aspect of their conference was Macmillan's and Eisenhower's conclusion that the cold war would continue for from two to four generations.
If the span of generation is about 25 years, this would be from 50 to 100 years.

Macmillan has told friends that he and Eisenhower concluded the Russians had shown themselves much stronger than expected, with the result that the free world must gird itself for a long, slow economic and political battle.

Other highlights of his report:
Relations between Britain and the United States were never better
... The December 16 meeting at Paris will be but the beginning of several. There should be many meetings between the heads of the American and British governments. "After all, the distance between London and Washington by air is no longer than the distance between London and Edinburgh by train." ... The prime minister even had praise for Foster Dulles. "Most forthcoming," was the way he described him.
... Macmillan's only criticism was for the joint British-American communique issued after his talks
... "There are two ways of saying things," he explained to a friend. "One is the direct way.
The other is the American way — falsely. There were some direct points in the communique, but on the whole it's rather woolly."

Area Communities Plan Exhibits for Plant Locations

CARBONDALE, Ill.—A group of Southern Illinois communities will exhibit their advantages as industrial plant locations next week at a Chicago convention that will draw the nation's leading industrial realtors.

An exhibit financed by Carlyle, Coulterville, Cobden, Eldorado,
Flora, Mounds, and the communities in Hardin and Pope Counties will be presented at the National Association of Real Estate Boards annual meeting in the Conrad Hilton hotel Nov. 3-8.

The Society of Industrial Realtors, the Urban Land Institute and other groups will be meeting at the same time.

All of the towns represented in the 40-foot display are engaged in development programs with the assistance of Southern Illinois University's Department of Community Development.

Staffing the exhibit will be Robert S. Henderson, industrial consultant with the University; Mason Parker, industrial engineer for Central Illinois Public Service Co., and Ed Hasse of the SIU Information Service.

NEW 1958 DODGES, featuring a complete safety group, consisting of power steering, power brakes, padded dashboard and sun visors, will be on display Friday at the B. W. Rude Motor Co., Harrisburg dealer. The pushbutton Torque-Flite transmission is an added convenience and the safety Torsion-Aire ride is standard on all models.

B. W. Rude Motor Company Will Display 1958 Dodge Models Friday

Safety engineering, fuel economy and engine performance, plus "swept-wing" styling, feature the 1958 line of Dodge cars to be on display Friday at the B. W. Rude Motor Co., Harrisburg dealer.

Dual headlights, mounted side-by-side under the jutting fender hoods, provide greater safety for after-dark driving, and set the pace for an all-new grille design of the 1958 Dodge. The dual units are standard on all 1958 Dodge cars.

Complementing the dual headlight styling is a strikingly different grille design built of stainless steel. Upper grille bars wrap around the front fender edges and end at the edge of the cross-hatched grille in "Bombs" which house the circular parking lights.
The lower bumper bar has a new center crossover bar for additional protection of grille and license plate.

A completely new line of engines, headed by the Ram Fire

V8 powers all 1958 Dodge cars.
The Ram Fire V8 is standard on all Custom Royal and station wagon models in the 350-cubic inch version.

A 361-cubic inch version of the Ram Fire is available on all Dodge Eightys with the D-500 engine package.

Ram Fire "350" uses a single four-barrel carburetor for high efficiency and low fuel consumption.
The 325 cubic inch Red Ram engine, standard in Coronet and Royal models, provides improved fuel economy through better burning of the fuel-air charge. The compression ratio is 9.0 to 1.

The Getaway Six, a 230-cubic inch engine with compression ratio of 8.0 to 1, is available on Coronet models.

The Torsion-Aire ride again is standard equipment on all 1958 Dodge models, and safety features are emphasized.

The 1958 Dodge line consists of four separate series: Coronet, Royal, Custom Royal and station wagons. Four four-door sedans are offered, three four-door Lancer hardtops, three two-door Lancer hardtops, two club sedans, two convertibles and five station wagons.

Two of the station wagons feature rear-facing "spectator" third seats.

Enfield Woman Dies of Injuries

CARMI, Ill. (UP)—Mrs. Vera
Smith, 30, of Enfield, died Wednesday in a Carmi hospital of injuries received Oct. 16 in the head-on collision of two cars on U. S.
460 near Enfield.

Mrs. Smith was an employee of the White County circuit clerk's office. The driver of the other car, Donald James, Enfield, was not seriously injured.

To make a banana milk shake, mash a ripe banana and add one cup of milk and a scoop of vanilla ice cream. Blend thoroughly with a beater, blender or mixer, and serve in a frosted tall glass.

INTRODUCING NEW

Swept-Wing 58

So advanced it leaves the rest behind!

On display for the first time today is a car that stands apart in any company. It is very low, very daring, beautifully proportioned. Its unusual sureness of handling and control reflects the latest engineering advances. To own it is a new adventure. Swept-Wing 58 by DODGE

THE CANVAS DAGGER

by HELEN REILLY

XXII

Carlotta and Di Satterlee exchanged faint smiles and Steven said amiably, "Don't talk such rot, Florrie, my dear," and patted her shoulder. She raised her head, dashed tears away and looked at the lieutenant, who was on his feet. "Why are you asking all these questions?" she demanded. "What's it to you where we were or what we did that day?"

Carney told them. A question had arisen as to how Grant Melville had met his death, whether he had fallen through the studio window of the house on Tenth Street or whether he had been assisted through it, and the New York police were investigating. Nobody was stricken by the announcement, Sarah thought. Surprise, and conventional shock. "But how awful..." Di Satterlee's hands tightened spasmodically on the chair behind which she was standing and her face got a little paler, but that was natural enough, she had once been the dead man's wife.

Carney could give them no details; he said he knew nothing more himself, and went. So did Di Satterlee. "I must tell Felix... poor Grant." Then Tom took Florrie home.

For once, for the first time, she was glad to see him go... Carlotta moved about gathering cups and glasses, full of questions, surmises. Why did the police think Grant had been killed? It was difficult to imagine such a thing. Unless—maybe that wife of his might have been jealous...

Steven was impatient, testy. "Don't be a fool, Carlotta." He said to Sarah, "Now do you know why I didn't want you to say anything about my being in your apartment that day?"

Sarah looked up at him. Before she could answer Carlotta dropped the glass she was holding. Her face was sharp, colorless. "Not Bob," she cried. "Oh no, not Bob. He wouldn't."

Steven said grimly, "I know that as well as you do, but will the police agree?"

Dianna Satterlee had told Bob Brown when he stopped at her hotel that afternoon looking for his wife, that she had seen Florrie laughing and talking gaily with Grant Melville in the Longchamps terrace cafe at a little after two. She had said, "You ought to do something about it, Bob," and he said, "Don't worry, I will," and walked out.

That was at around four, and Grant Melville had gone through the studio window at approximately 4:35.

Neither Carlotta nor Steven believed that Bob Brown had had anything to do with Melville's death. Steven said he was in debt up to his ears, he had probably been playing the horses again.

Playing the horses was what was the matter with Bob Brown, Steven said.

Presently they all went to bed. There were no alarms. The night was quiet. Under cover of it and of the darkness, the killer made his move. This move was unavoidable, inevitable. What the killer did, had to be done. It was the beginning of the end.

In New York, Inspector McKee had had an interesting and unexpected telephone call. It was from Mrs. Melville.

She huffed and she puffed, and she finally got down to it. She wanted to know if the police knew whether Grant had any living relative. She was sure he hadn't, he had never spoken of anyone belonging to him. Grant had left a little money. The little money Grant Melville had left was $43,000.

Where had Grant Melville accumulated $43,000 in slightly less than a year? After he disposed of the widow the Scotsman called a couple of painters he knew. One, who worked as a plumber for a living, said morosely that if Melville had sold five paintings in a year at a hundred apiece he'd be considered a success. The other, a fashion illustrator, put the figure somewhat higher. Melville might have gotten a thousand or two for a portrait if he was a good salesman.

Grant Melville's bank statement showed that he had deposited $15,000 in March, $20,000 in May, and $10,000 in July, over and above the three hundred a month from his wife.

One of the detectives who had gone hunting, armed with photographs of Melville, brought home the bacon. At half-past 11 on the day of his death Melville had taken a cab to the apartment hotel in which the Channing Halls lived when they were in town. The cabman, Harold Wosenski, knew the artist well. Mr. Melville had a painting with him that day. Melville had been waiting and went inside. He came out again in 15 or 20 minutes still carrying the painting.

Mrs. Hall received McKee composedly and pleasantly. She knew nothing whatever about Grant Melville and his call there—over a month ago, wasn't it? But perhaps John... She rang for the houseman.

Johnny readily identified the photograph of Melville. The gentleman had come with a painting. No, John hadn't seen it, it was in one of those canvas carriers that a lot of the artists used. The houseman was familiar with artists. Mr. Hall bought a great many paintings. The gentleman had been with Mr. Hall for five or 10 minutes, was carrying the canvas with him when he left.

McKee said, "And now, Mrs. Hall, if I might have a word with your husband?"

That did it. That was the pay off.

News from the State Capitol

Illinois' Union county public shooting ground will be featured in the November issue of Outdoor Life. Authored by Tom McNally, the article is titled "Two-Dollar Goose." It covers a two-day hunt in the Union county wildlife refuge and should be of special interest to hunters who have trouble bagging their limit of geese.

"I never thought bargain shooting could be so good, but this Illinois trip changed my mind," the author says in the article. He said that hunter success at Union has been fantastic. Ninety per cent of the sportsmen visiting the area last season left with the limit. This success may be judged by the remark made by a Kansan hunter who drove 450 miles from his home to hunt:

"Holding a plump honker by the neck, he pointed toward the broken formation of geese. 'Ain't that something?' he said. 'Nothing like that where I come from.' Then, holding out his goose, he added:

'And imagine this, all for a measly two bucks.'"

Field forage harvesters on Illinois farms have more than doubled in number since 1950, according to Stillman J. Stanard, director of the Illinois Department of Agriculture.

The latest estimates show more than 13,000 in Illinois in 1956 compared with less than 6,000 in 1950, he said.

Stanard said widespread use of the field forage harvester—developed in the 1930s—appears to be a post-World War II development.

Through the use of the machine, grasses and legumes can be "green chopped" for immediate feeding, or prepared for ensiling, with little or no rain damage inherent in conventional hay-making.

Smallest of the owls is the tiny elf owl of southwestern United States and western Mexico. It is hardly six inches long.

It Happened In Southern Illinois The Legend of Dr. Anna Bigsby

By John W. Allen
Southern Illinois University
When measured by dollars alone, very small Hardin county in Southern Illinois is rated among the poorer ones in the state. Measured by some other standards, however, it is quite wealthy. If the yardstick is one of legendary figures, it surely is among the richest of our counties.

Its early story is filled with roistering river boatmen, pirates, counterfeiters, strong men, fevders, assorted brigands and highwaymen, killers, bullies and braggarts, as well as with those who did good. Perhaps no other county, large or small, can lay claim to more of such half-real, half-mystical characters. Each of these began with a very real person around whom a legend of fact and legend grew. In many instances it is difficult to separate the real from the legend.

Most of the figures that have become storied ones were men. A few such characters, however, have been women. Among these Dr. Anna Bigsby of Hardin county remains one of the more prominent and kindly remembered ones. To her story, even yet, bits of fact and fancy are being added.

Came in Covered Wagon
The real Anna Pierce, for that was her maiden name, came from Philadelphia to Illinois with her parents, Norman and Catherine Pierce, in covered wagons, accompanied by Lou Reynolds and Henry Curtis when Anna was about sixteen. Tradition informs us that her father was an ambitious, industrious, upright and fearless man, and also that her mother was a well educated, friendly and helpful woman — traits likewise evident in the daughter Anna.

Before leaving Philadelphia Anna had received such educational advantages as her years would allow. Under her mother's guidance and encouragement she continued to study and, in turn, became a teacher to those who wished to learn.

A few years after coming to Illinois and after one bit of legend relates that she killed a man who attacked her, Anna returned to Philadelphia to study medicine. When she had completed her studies there, she returned to Illinois to practice her profession, to teach and to engage in the work of the church. She was married to Isaac Hobbs, son of neighboring farmer. Known as Doctor Anna.

As a doctor, when doctors were few and far between, her practice extended over a wide area. There are many stories of her lonely and sometimes dangerous trips by night and through storm over dim woodlands and trails. She was successful beyond the average. For her skill, kindness and evident sincerity she was respected by all and affectionately referred to as "Doc Anna." There were a few, however, who considered her promotion of schools as high-toned. They also feared the church work she promoted would come to interfere greatly with certain of their illegal practices.

While Dr. Anna still lived legend began to grow about her. One bit of this relates to the deadly milk sickness that sometimes appeared in the region during late summer and early fall. At such times it took numerous human lives and caused the death of hundreds of young cattle. Since no one knew its cause, little could be done to control the plague.

Some came to believe it the work of persons suspected of being witches and of scattering a magic poison. There was some talk of moving against those thought guilty and of meting out summary punishment.

Helped By Indian Squaw
Dr. Anna knew that it was not the work of witches and therefore discouraged any action directed in league with Satan. She did, however, set about to discover the cause of milk sickness. Suspecting that it resulted from some plant eaten by cattle, she conducted experiments to determine the plant responsible. In this she was helped by a Shawnee Indian squaw who, wise in the medical lore of the Indians, knew a plant that produced a like effect upon people.

According to the legend, Dr. Anna's experiments proved that the white snake root plant, the Shawnee squaw had pointed out, was the culprit. After that, men went into the woods, destroyed the patches of this plant, and saw the malady disappear. Only a few years ago a farmer and his son in the same area were observed digging out a patch of the offending plant. About the time when milk sickness was the worst, Anna's husband died of pneumonia. Some years later the doctor was married to Eson (pronounced As-on) Bigsby, an undercover outlaw and timber thief who, tradition tells us, married her for the money he thought she had.

Weird Legend
It was he who chained her, pushed her from a cliff, and tried to destroy her with fire. It was from him that the cave in the bluff beside Rock Creek in Hoover Hollow derived its name. It is along this bluff in the vicinity of the cave that lingering reports of weird such half-real, half-mystical characters are supposed to guide the spirit of Doctor Anna as she guards the queer blend of fact and legend that grew.

Franklin Group May Appeal to Courts: Castle

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Republican members of the Franklin County Board, who charged the board's Democratic majority has blocked an investigation of the county treasurer's office, may appeal to the courts, Atty. Gen. Latham Castle said today.

Castle said he so advised a delegation of Republican members of the county board Tuesday. They came to ask the attorney general's assistance in the matter.

Before a direct appeal to the courts, however, Castle said, the group should petition Franklin County State's Atty. Joseph W. Hickman to recall a grand jury to investigate charges of irregularity in the treasurer's office.

Lin County Treasurer Jess Britton and Hickman are Democrats.

Building Trades Pay Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—Average union pay in the building trades rose to $3.21 an hour, according to U. S. Labor Department. On the basis of 52 weeks at 40 hours per week that would put the building trades average salary at $6.676 a year. However, the department did not compute yearly earnings because building trades workers seldom work a full year.

Harvesting of "Lord's Acre"
Crop Completed

The crop of yellow corn on the field known as the "Lord's Acre," a 25 acre field in Bowlesville Town ship farmed by men of the community for the benefit of the Ring gold Church, was harvested on Tuesday, October 22. The field yielded 940 bushels of corn and the return to the church was $952.30. Three corn pickers were on the job all day, and were provided by H. H. Barlow, Raymond Brazier and Melvin Willis. Charles Willis furnished a large elevator and lift which expedited the unloading, and tractors to pull the loaded wagons in were furnished by H. H. Barlow, Fred Harris, Joe Logsdon and Charles Willis. Also helping with the work were: Joe Barlow, Adam Brazier, Bob Brazier, Leroy Cape heart, Joe Capeheart, Charles Bo-Jac, Haudrich, Hish, and Pioner, all donated by their local agents. Planting was done on May 29. A large harvest dinner was enjoyed about 12 noon when the women folk arrived with well filled baskets. About 45 persons were on hand for the meal.

This year's project was the sixth annual Lord's Acre project, and the proceeds will be used mostly for the purchase of decking for the roofing job recently done, and for material for a new hardwood floor to be installed soon in the church. Through the years, the Lord's Acre project has made possible some very excellent improvements to the church. Many of the men of the community have taken their turn as farm foremen for this project, and this year's foremen were H. H. Barlow and Kenneth Rich. The pastor and officers of the church wish to thank the foremen and all who had a part in making this year's project the success that it was.

Attends National Safety Congress Held in Chicago

Sue Bradley, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Bradley of Ridgeway, was one of the four Illinois 4-H delegates to National Safety Congress last week. A freshman in home economics at Southern Illinois University, Miss Bradley was chosen because of her over-all 4-H record, her leadership ability and her record in the 4-H safety activity. The trip was paid for by the Illinois 4-H Foundation.

The National Safety Congress was held in 19 Chicago hotels October 21-25 with headquarters at the Hamilton hotel. Over 200 youth delegates from 28 states attended the Congress. In all, about 45,000 people representing 71 divisions such as miners, nurses, youth, farm, labor, safety, engineers, fire protection, traffic, aeronautical and industry, Sue reports.

The youth section was composed of 4-H, FFA, FHA and Farm Bureau young people.

The large machinery companies gave the 4-H members banquets and provided entertainment during the Congress.

"There was something going on all the time," Sue said. "I did not realize the interest in safety was so great."

The theme for the Congress was "Back the Attack."

Each year a continuation committee is selected from the youth section which means that the one selected will return next year. A boy from Iowa was chosen for the continuation committee and Miss Bradley was chosen alternate.

The Gallatin County delegate is a member and junior leader of the Merry Maids 4-H club which is led by Mrs. Lee Mills and Mrs. Robert Walters Jr. She is a past president of the Gallatin County 4-H federation and has been in club work eight years.

80-Acre School Parcel

Brings $8,500 at Sale

In Gallatin County

SHAWNEETOWN, Ill. (Special) —A public auction held at the courthouse Monday of 80 acres of school land located in Shawnee Township attracted considerable interest and bidding.

The parcel of land, located at Fish Lake, was purchased by T. O. Logsdon, an adjoining land owner, for $8,500.

The net proceeds will go to the treasurer of Southeast Gallatin County's Sh. wnc. Unit District No. 2.

Youth Who Set Fires Declared Mentally Deficient

BENTON, Ill. (UP)—A 12-year-old admitted arsonist who said he set five fires, including one that burned down the home of his foster parents, was declared mentally deficient in a Franklin County Court hearing Wednesday.

State's Atty. Joseph Hickman said the boy will be sent to the Illinois State School for Children at Lincoln to join a brother already there.

Authorities said the West Frankfort youth admitted setting the five fires within a four-month period with revenge as the motive behind most of them.

They said he burned down the home of his foster parents because he had to wash dishes and set fire to the home of an 82-year-old widow because he said she owed him 25 cents for carrying in coal. Authorities said the boy originally lived in Randolph County and had been living with the West Frankfort family as a ward of the court.

Urges School Aid

NEW YORK (UP)—General Motors President Harlow Curtice called on the nation's 14,825 largest corporations Sunday to help the nation's 82 medical schools through their present financial emergency. Curtice said the medical schools need 10 million dollars more a year to enable them to add teachers, expand enrollments and start new courses.

Wiley's to Display 1958 Lincoln Friday

Six models of the 1958 Lincoln Premiere and Lincoln Capri, inspired by the styling of the Continental, will go on display in the Wiley Motor company showrooms Friday.

In each line there is a four-door sedan, a four-door hardtop and a two-door hardtop coupe.

Designers and stylists enhanced the low, and long graceful lines of each Lincoln by complementing each model with the Continental roof line, canted dual headlamps, an extended long, low hood and a wide, sweeping rear deck lid.

Set between the canted dual headlamps is a horizontally-louvered grille with a massive flared bumper across the front. A Lincoln script on the lift side of the grille gives the car distinctive identification.

From the side, the Lincoln suggests the classic simplicity of the Continental profile. Along the side is a single strip of chrome which extends from the rear bumper to the middle of the front door. On Premiere models, the end of this molding is highlighted by an eight pointed star.

The styling theme at the rear matches the front with an oval-shaped horizontally-louvered grille treatment. On either side are integrated tail lights and backup lights set into the grille. The bumper matches the chrome treatment on the lower portion of the rear deck lid which outlines and protects the oval-shaped grille.

Need Cottage Parents, Aides at Institutions In Northern Illinois

Representatives of the Illinois Department of Personnel will interview applicants and conduct written and oral tests for Cottage Parent I and Psychiatric Aide I Tuesday and Wednesday (November 5 and 6) at the State Employment Office in Harrisburg. These persons are sought for immediate employment at several State institutions in Northern Illinois.

Minimum starting salaries for these positions are $175 to $223. At some of the institutions, maintenance may be purchased at $34 a month. All successful candidates will be required to pass a physical examination before appointment.

Male cottage parents have custody of boys and female cottage parents of girls at State training schools. Applicants should have completed the eighth grade, and must be able to work effectively with adolescent boys and girls.

Both men and women are needed as Psychiatric Aides, who care for and supervise the activities of patients at State mental hospitals. Applicants should have completed the eighth grade or have equivalent work experience.

U. S. to Display Airpower in Argentina

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Defense Department has announced that a token display of U. S. air power will go on display in Argentina next month. A good will visit of fighter and bomber jets will coincide with Argentina's Aviation Week, Nov. 10-17. The visit will give Argentines their first look at the B-47 Strato-Jet and B-52 Strato-Fortress, among others.

of the most magnificent motorcars of our time
... setting new standards of classic elegance

The Lincoln Premiere Coupé

THE NEW LINCOLN FOR 1958

... now styled and crafted in the Continental tradition

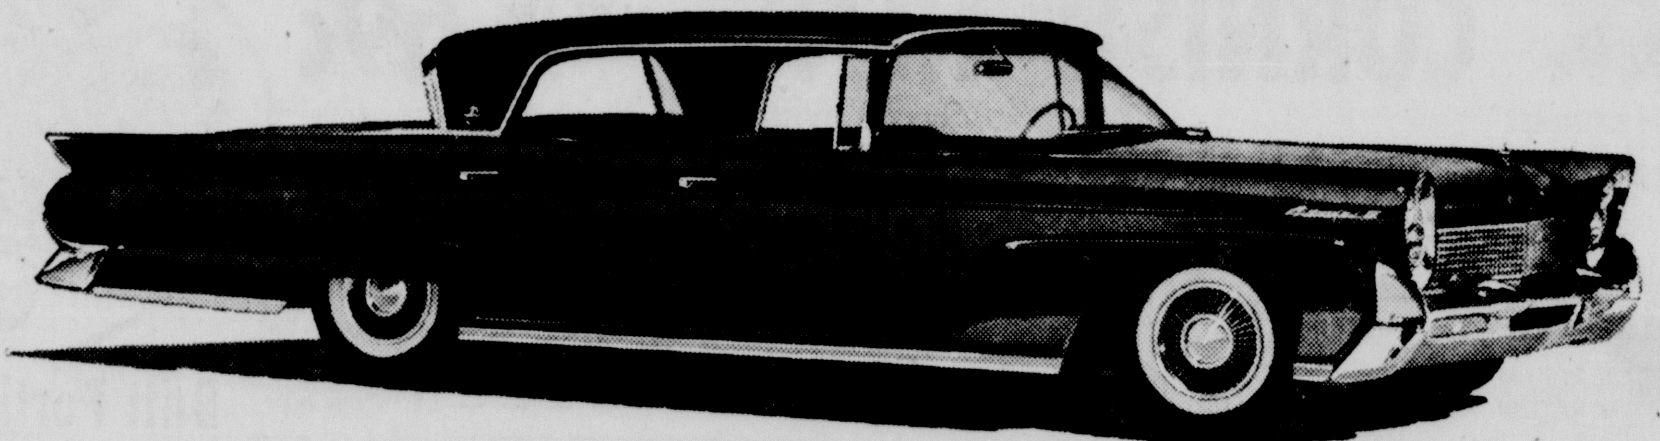

You are invited to see the most magnificent Lincolns ever built — inspired by the new Continental Mark III, and crafted in the tradition of every Continental ever built.

Longer, lower, and more spacious than any Lincolns before them, these cars have the clean, timeless character of the Continental in every classic line. Inside, there is an elegance not found in any other motorcar.

The engine is new, the transmission is new, the suspension is new. And for an extra measure of lasting quietness, they are the only cars in their class with single unit body and frame construction.

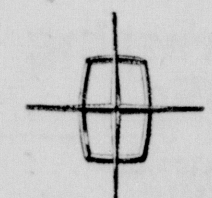

By all means, see these new Lincolns.

The Continental Mark III Landau. Continental prices are now within the reach of every fine car buyer.

THE NEW CONTINENTAL MARK III

... classic elegance in its finest form

Here — in four incomparable new models — is the greatest Continental of them all.

As you would expect, the new Mark III has advanced new features: a retractable rear window, for example, in all models including the convertible.

It has uncommon luxury: exemplified by leathers imported from Bridge of Weir, Scotland. And in the Continental tradition, the engine is so smooth you can balance a coin on the hood.

And because this car is built in the newest, most modern automobile plant in the world, with the highest standards of craftsmanship, the Continental Mark III is now priced just slightly above the fine car field.

You're invited to inspect the new Continental Mark III.

Western Illinois U. Athletic Dep't Denounced

MACOMB, Ill. (U.P.) — One Western Illinois University student was in jail, another on probation and a third case "as pending today in the wake of a vigorous denunciation of the school's athletic department by a probation officer."

All three students were prominent athletes at Western, and two pleaded guilty to grand larceny charges.

Dave Timok was placed on five years probation, with three months of the sentence to be served in county jail, and another student, Norman Atkins, was placed on five years probation. Timok and Atkins have been expelled from Western.

The case of a third student charged with larceny was continued to Nov. 4. He is Western's star halfback, Robert McCue. His case was continued on condition he would not engage in any athletic activities.

Circuit Judge Burton Roeth imposed the sentences on Timok and Atkins last week, and continued McCue's case.

Probation officer Lloyd Herberner, who recommended the probation for the two students, charged in his report on the case that the Western athletic department was not properly supervised, and the athletes were not properly screened before they were permitted to enroll.

Western, he charged, placed entirely too much emphasis on winning games, rather than on the proper development of the students as citizens.

Western President Dr. F. A. Beu fired back that it was "unfortunate" that an "inexperienced probation officer saw fit to malign the coaches, students and faculty" at Western.

If Herberner had visited Western before making his report he would have known that he was not telling the truth, Beu said.

The three students were charged in connection with a recent wave of burglaries in the Macomb area.

Plan Big Homecoming Program For ETHS Golden Anniversary

The Eldorado Township high school, observing its Golden Anniversary, has a big homecoming program planned for Friday and Saturday, Nov. 1 and 2.

Included in the two-day affair are the Senior class play, coronation of Homecoming Queen, homecoming parade, football game and homecoming dance.

Festivities will get underway Friday afternoon with a matinee presentation of the Senior play, "Take Care of My Little Girl," at 1:30. Another performance is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Friday and following the play. Coronation ceremonies will be held.

There are five candidates for Homecoming Queen — Judy Bramlet, Myra Cox, Linda Flannigan, Susan Scribner and Janice Sutton. Play Benton Rangers.

The homecoming parade is to start from the high school at 2 p. m. Saturday and proceed to the business section where a pep meeting will be staged. The pep meeting will be led by cheerleaders Rae Hill, Donna Hicks, Lynda Irvin, Rose Miller, Linda Raley and Susan Scribner and the high school band, which will lead the parade, will also participate in the pep rally.

Saturday night, with kickoff time set for 7:30, the highly regarded Benton Rangers will face the unbeaten, but flu-ridden, Eldorado Eagles. The dance will follow, to be held in the school cafeteria.

Coach Al Adams stated Wednesday that the ranks of the Eagles were still riddled by the flu and he had no idea what the condition of the team would be at game time. Last week eight of the varsity squad were on the sick list and as Cairo also was hard hit with illness the scheduled Eldorado-at-Cairo game on Oct. 25 was postponed until Nov. 11.

In discussing the sick list, as of Wednesday, Coach Adams stated quarterback Carl Justice was out of school Monday and was still weak but back in school; halfback Jack Fowler had been out all week; Tom Baugher, end, was absent for the first time Wednesday; Co-Captain and end Jim Woods hadn't practiced for about 10 days; defensive halfback Leonard Willis had been sick all week; centers Jay Flanders and Bill Hopkins hadn't been able to practice this week and guard Larry Miller failed to show up Tuesday.

Last week's sick list included the Raines brothers, Jerry and Ronnie, Gary Reasons, Lester Feunquay, Fred Pool, Parvin Coker, Louis Bertino, Bernard Goodley and others.

"Although the boys ill last week are back in school, they are not up to par and we haven't had a sufficient number of boys present for a full-dress scrimmage in about a week. I don't know if we will ever get back to peak condition before the end of the season," Adams declared.

Suffered Defeat Last Year
Eldorado is unbeaten in six starts for the year and for the second consecutive season will lay a perfect record on the line against

Illness-Stricken Bull Dogs Play West Frankfort Here Friday Night

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs squad was so reduced by injuries and illness that the Tuesday night practice was called off.

Last night practice was held with about 16 boys, in preparation for the game with West Frankfort here Friday night.

Coach Lawrence Caluffetti said that as of yesterday A. J. Bryant, tackle, was out with a broken wrist, Gary Leverette, guard, was out with a back injury; Ira Logan, hurt two weeks ago, is still out; Gary Aldridge, guard, out last week because of illness, is out now because of injury; and David Dalton, halfback, and Carl Fleming, end, are out of school with illness.

Those boys are not expected to play, Caluffetti said. He added that fullback Eddie Price, halfback Darrell Duke and center Allen Buchanan were out of school with illnesses the first part of the week but had returned to classes. He did not know what their physical conditions would be by Friday night.

The Bull Dogs, 7-0 conquerors of Carbondale last week in the annual Homecoming tilt here, would climb a rung on the South Seven conference football ladder if they were to beat West Frankfort Friday night at Taylor Field.

Red Birds Hit by Illness
Frankfort in conference play has won one and lost two with an overall mark of 3 and 3. Harrisburg is 1-3 in the conference and is 2-5 for the season.

The Red Birds have looked powerful in some games and not so good in others. Last week they were trounced 4-20 by league-leading Herrin but Frankfort could barely field a team because of illnesses. Reports were that only 15 boys were dressed for the game and that one of these was injured early and could not return to the game.

Herrin right now is at the top of the conference with four wins, a tie and no losses. Centralia is right behind with three victories, a tie and no defeats.

Other Games
The Tigers play out of the conference this week-end, meeting Johnston City, and Centralia, which goes to Mt. Vernon, could be tied with Herrin Saturday morning by beating the Rams, quite a possibility.

Marion also plays out of the conference Friday night. Traveling to Chester. Benton waits until Saturday night to play, then travels to Eldorado. Last year Benton stopped Eldorado's winning streak by a score of 33-13. Eldorado is again unbeaten this year.

INDIANAPOLIS (U.P.) — An imaginative service station attendant captured a man who had just held him up by grabbing a golf club from his car and pretending it was a rifle. The surprised bandit, unable to tell the difference in the darkness, climbed meekly down from a rooftop and surrendered to the attendant and a police officer who had arrived just as the bandit learned the truth.

Ludwig Van Beethoven, who learned to play the piano at the age of four, had conducted a theater orchestra and written three piano sonatas at the age of 12. Yet he did not know how to multiply. He spent a very unhappy young manhood because of several unsuccessful love affairs, but the crowning tragedy occurred at the age of 31 when he became deaf. He overcame his handicap and continued to play and compose music much as he had done when his hearing was normal.

Go Right Ahead

Report Zhukov Fired Because of 'Bonapartism'

LONDON — Marshal Georgi Zhukov was fired as Soviet defense minister because party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev feared he was trying to become another Napoleon Bonaparte, reports from Moscow said today.

Western diplomatic and Communist press sources in close touch with Moscow said Zhukov shortly would be accused publicly of "Bonapartism," something akin to the "personality cult" with which Khrushchev regarded the late Josef Stalin.

In essence, it means Khrushchev feared Zhukov as head of the army was growing more powerful than Khrushchev as head of the party, diplomats said.

The Red army resumed its rehearsals in downtown Moscow Wednesday night for the 40th anniversary parade celebrating the Bolshevik Revolution Nov. 7.

They were the first held since Zhukov's dismissal was announced, indicating Khrushchev felt he had won a complete victory over Zhukov and did not fear repercussions from the army.

Reuther Asks Law Against 'Union Busters'

WASHINGTON — Walter Reuther called today for laws to punish any employer using underhanded methods to avoid dealing with labor unions.

The president of the United Auto Workers said "union busters" should be jailed along with union officials who are guilty of corruption.

He also ridiculed President Eisenhower's suggestion that consumers buy less when prices are rising.

"A don't-buy campaign will not cure inflation," Reuther said. "It will just cause unemployment." Reuther spoke at the opening session of the Industrial Union Department (IUD) two-day convention. The department, which he heads, has 71 member unions representing 7,200,000 workers.

Reuther also said unions must fight for wage increases to expand mass purchasing power if industrial leaders refuse to reduce prices to fight inflation.

He told 400 delegates to the convention that America's expanding productive capacity has outstripped the capacity of the public to buy, causing a shortage of customers. Reuther said the nation is troubled by inflation solely because basic industries set prices without regard to supply and demand.

Rev. Clayton Humphrey Displays Sack Made in Soviet Union

Rev. Clayton Humphrey yesterday was displaying a big sack which plainly said it was made in the Soviet Union.

He got it at the Pallister mill and Mr. Pallister said that some kind of grain from up north had been shipped to him in it.

The big sack is stamped "Asbestos—50 KG—Made in Soviet Union." It is of heavier weave than the ordinary gunny sack. It and another were found among 500 or 600 sacks stacked up at the mill.

Mr. Pallister said that probably asbestos had been shipped into this country in the sack originally.

Second Salary Increase Due State Employees

SPRINGFIELD — The second salary increase for state employees under the new personnel code will become effective Nov. 1, Stratton's office announced today.

The new increase will be 15 per cent of the difference between the salary of each employee last June and his projected salary rate for June, 1959, under the new state salary schedules.

The first increase, granted July 1, was 25 per cent of the difference between the two salary scales.

Stratton said the salary hikes, which will go only to state employees with satisfactory work records, are part of the series of graded increases designed to bring employees up to their proper places on the new salary schedule.

The new schedule includes 33 pay grades, each with a minimum and a maximum salary, with three levels between.

Under the schedule employees who have worked continuously in their present jobs since Dec. 31, 1955, will be eligible for the maximum level of their pay grades by June 30, 1959.

Employees with shorter work records will get proportionately lower salary scales under the schedule, and their maximum salaries will be reached when they have sufficient experience.

The November increases, the governor's office said, will be computed from salaries received during the pay period ending Sept. 30.

Attack Could Paralyze Industry

No Progress in Diversification of Industry Despite Repeated Warnings

By ROBERT G. SHORTAL

United Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK — Hydrogen bombs dropped on Los Angeles, Calif., and Wichita, Kan., could wipe out a major part of the nation's aircraft and missile producing plants.

Air attacks on Pittsburgh and Chicago could cripple 57 per cent of the nation's steelmaking facilities.

A hydrogen bomb on Detroit could deal a serious blow to the nation's vital machine tool industry and other key facilities.

"Despite all the talk about the diversification of industry," an industry spokesman said, "the U. S. today is in greater danger of being completely paralyzed by an enemy air attack than ever before in history."

Leonard C. Yaseen, head of Fantus Factory Locating Service, told the United Press that despite repeated warnings, "our defense industries today are as clustered in a few primary target areas as they were at the beginning of World War II."

Destruction Ability Greater

He said the only thing that has changed "is that the potential enemy is far more able to reach and destroy those target areas than he was at the time of Pearl Harbor."

Citing the lack of progress in dispersing industry, Yaseen said the same 32 metropolitan areas which accounted for 50 per cent of the nation's manufacturing output 20 years ago, still account for the same percentage of total output.

Yaseen said without government control over the location of new industries, companies naturally concentrate their facilities in areas favored by economic factors.

He said "a realistic and enforceable dispersion program must be put into effect immediately."

No Headway Made

Yaseen said the National Security Resources Board, the Defense Department, the Commerce Department and the Office of Defense Mobilization all have emphasized the need for industrial dispersion since 1948.

"Yet, in all this time, we have

War Would Wipe Out Russia: Burke

HONOLULU — A high-ranking Navy officer says Russia would be "wiped out" if she started a war with the United States.

This statement came Wednesday from Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, who has just completed a three-and-one-half-week tour of the Far East.

"There is no way in God's green earth that she (Russia) could avoid being wiped out," Burke said. "For that reason, she would be very foolish to start a general war."

Burke said the Russians could "hurt us badly" if they launched a sudden air and submarine attack. However, he said they could not deliver a knockout punch.

Rendleman Says Changes in Traffic Rules Will Not Be Easy

By SAM HANCOCK

United Press Staff Correspondent

CARBONDALE, Ill. (UP) — Public pressure for reform of America's crazy-quilt system of traffic courts and local regulations is mounting but the needed changes won't come easy, according to a lawyer making a nationwide survey.

Attorney John S. Rendleman, 30, said the "days of justice being administered in rooms with potbellied stoves is archaic."

Rendleman recently received a $10,000 grant from the Automotive Safety Foundation and the American Bar Assn. to keep the reform movement before the nation's lawmakers.

He is compiling a report on what has happened to 16 resolutions dealing with traffic law enforcement passed by the Governors Conference and the Conference of Chief Justices in 1951.

Integration of traffic courts into the state judicial systems was one of the major reforms called for by the resolutions.

Other resolutions called for all magistrates to be lawyers, elimination of fee collection by magistrates, non-fixable tickets and standardized fines.

Rendleman hopes to find out what has happened to these "good intentions" in the past six years and publish the information by the end of next year.

To Attack Speed Trap

With the facts at hand he will then attack the problem of producing state legislatures, bar associations, governors and justices into action.

A major point of attack will be the hated speed trap. Rendleman said many small towns still consider "foreign motorists" as their principal source of revenue.

Fines vary from town to town in the same area. Many outdated laws remain on the books because they can be used to fill the local treasury.

Rendleman cited a railroad spur in Maryland which crosses an eight-lane highway. The spur is used about once every six months.

A Maryland law provides all vehicles crossing a railroad may not travel more than five miles per hour.

Rendleman estimated there were 1,000 violations per hour at the spur crossing.

He said he now has a lawyer in each state sorting out such outdated traffic laws and helping with the reform program.

Mrs. William Trehey Wins $100 Bond

Mrs. William Trehey of 505 Vista Lane, Plainfield, Ill., and formerly of Harrisburg, won a $100 bond at the A and P food store in Plainfield.

Mrs. Trehey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Thomas of Big Ridge community and is now employed part time at Owens cafe in her home town.

At the time the bond was awarded Mrs. Trehey was at work and remarked she had won a nice prize seven years ago on July 21, the same day of the month she won the bond.

She explained that no buying was involved to participate for the bond, all persons had to do was go in and register.

Two Fined

Robert Goodwin of near Alton today was fined $65.30 for reckless driving and $65.30 for illegal transportation of liquor when arrested before Justice of the Peace O. L. Woods. A companion was fined $20.30 for drunkenness.

The two were arrested last night by State Policemen Guthrie Alexander and Walter Lowe.

Springfield Man Heads Legislative Audit Commission

SPRINGFIELD — The new Legislative Audit Commission Wednesday named Roger E. Henn, 41, Springfield, to head its permanent staff, a $10,000 a year post.

Henn is research director for the Illinois Taxpayers Federation. The commission voted unanimously for Henn's appointment after interviewing a number of candidates for the post.

The appointment is effective Dec. 1. Henn indicated he would be able to obtain a leave of absence from his federation job in order to accept the new position, which was set up on a per month basis at $833 per month.

Henn worked closely with Sen. W. Russell Arrington (R-Evanston) and several other legislators in drafting the bills which created the commission, of which Arrington is chairman.

The commission was set up by the 1957 Legislature as part of the reform legislation to tighten controls on state spending in the wake

Call Off Aerial Search for Pilot

SPRINGFIELD — Aeronautics Director Arthur E. Abney Wednesday called off an aerial search for George Burkhardt, Morris, a pilot missing on a flight over the Ozark Mountains of Missouri and Arkansas.

Abney said the search had been "temporarily suspended," but his fliers would remain on call if any new leads turn up on the missing man. Search planes from Missouri and Arkansas pulled out of the hunt for Burkhardt last week.

Abney said it was unlikely that Burkhardt, 22, would be found alive. He has been missing since Oct. 14 when he took off from Morris on a flight to deliver 10,000 baby chicks to Russellville, Ark. He was last heard from over St. Louis.

of the multi-million dollar Hodge scandal. Its principal purpose is to coordinate information on state spending and provide the Legislature with a clear picture of where deficiencies in control of state funds may be found.
